Family Awards Dinner 1982

Dean Ed Risinger at the helm of the awards

Peggy Wieland receives the Johnson Award — annually presented to an outstanding new faculty member.

Heidi Smeltzer has a song in her heart as she receives a special music award.

Bob Abene, Director of Student Life, conducts one of three mini-discussion groups during Spring Weekend.

To avoid getting in over her head, Sherri Springer jumps into her swim routine with great concentration.

Looking like mermaids, Sandra Galford and Elizabeth Burns swim a duet in the water ballet show.

Graduation

Almost as confused as whey they were freshmen, these graduates line up to take the first step into a new life.

Graduation

President Orley Herron applauds graduates and charges them to be "Chariots of Fire."

Dr. Calvin Claus brings a distinguished air to his post as Master of Students.

Bob Abene, Director of Student Life, naming those students who have now received their Masters' degree.

Good Luck Graduates!

Frances Glass calls undergraduates to the podium to receive their Bachelor's degree.

Lomb

Although the student population of Lombard is small, the environment is healty and happy — and good for growth, as the smiles on the faces of these students show.

A feast and some flowers help Lombard students cele-

ard

The Lombard campus really cooks ... and once the secret's out of the can, it's hard to believe everything wasn't homemade. Proud Lombard students stand in front of the baked goods that made their sale a success.

Is he hiding behind those papers or behind his beard? It's hard to tell, but Bob Kotter is hard at work.

H e l p i n

It looks easy the way Barb Loughead does it, but teaching, as NCE students learn, isn't always a good time.

Well in place behind his desk, Bob Hartman, head of the placement department, takes a well-deserved break.

At NCE

Dr. Helen Challand, director of Undergraduates at the Lombard Campus.

Everyone needs a chance to pause and reflect ... no matter which side of the desk they find themselves on.

There's a world of wonders between the covers of a book, as Pat Sceske finds out.
